

Creating a safer online world.

Being kind to each other when online, will have huge benefits to your own mental health and others.

How can we be kind when we are online?

Create a mind map with ways that we can show kindness when online.